

Commissioner Chloe Scott

Majoring in Communications with a concentration in Public Relations and a minor in Spanish, Chloe is currently a Junior at Hood College, Frederick, MD. She has been serving the Frederick County Commission for Women since 2012, first as a volunteer since 2012 and then as an intern in 2013. In 2012, Chloe was honored as the Student Youth Leader at the FCCFW Annual Leadership Alliance Dinner. Currently, she stays involved in the Frederick community through an organization she launched at West Frederick Middle School and as a volunteer on various activities at Lincoln Elementary School.

As a native of Frederick, Chloe believes it is of vital importance to be civically engaged and to continue to foster opportunities for children and victims of abuse in the Frederick community. She is one of the many young voices in Frederick that stand to make a difference. She's volunteered for Mission of Mercy, serves as an advocate for doing more with L.E.S.S. (Leadership, Education, Social Awareness, and Service), and has dedicated time and effort to planning Out of Sight, Out of Mind: A Perspective on Human Trafficking, an awareness event co-hosted by the FCCFW. Chloe's motto is "When you know better, you do better". She is honored to serve the FCCFW as commissioner to further its efforts to achieve its mission "to create a stronger community by addressing challenges and fostering unlimited opportunities for ALL women".
